COMMUNICATIONS: STAYING CONNECTED

The City of Laurel has many events that happen throughout the year and one great source for staying in the know is through the Department of Communications. Read further to find out how you can learn about all the happenings in and around the City, or how you can get the information to the Department for dissemination to the public.

For Communications Director Audrey Barnes, a standing room only crowd at the City's recent Volunteer Fair was a perfect opportunity to explain how to get connected to the City's many different communications platforms so you never miss out on the news and special events happening in Laurel.

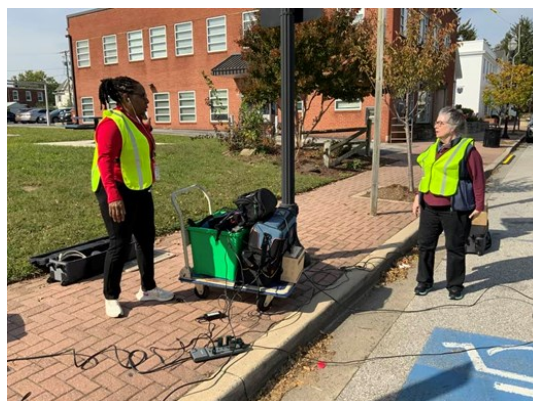

"If you would like to get City of Laurel press releases, including emergency notifications and volunteer opportunities, you should sign up to be added to our email distribution list," Ms. Barnes told the group. "Everything we send out will go straight to the inbox on your PC or your smartphone." The best way to get on the list is to send an email to laurelpio@laurel.md.us. You'll receive a welcome email back to let you know you've been added.

Another key way to stay on top of all things Laurel is through our many social media accounts. Number one on the list is the City of Laurel-government Facebook page.

"The Department of Communications keeps the City's Facebook page stuffed to the brim with information about our neighborhoods, businesses, and even State-wide things that affect us all," Barnes says.

Many other City Departments have Facebook pages too that you should LIKE and follow, including the Laurel Police Department, City of Laurel Department of Economic and Community Development, Laurel City OEM, and the City of Laurel Department of Parks and Recreation. We've also recently added Facebook pages for the City of Laurel Juneteenth and Pride Planning Committees. Most of the posts that go on the Facebook pages will also appear on the associated Instagram page too. There are some key sites you will definitely want to follow on Twitter, including @cityofLaurel, @laurelcityoem, @laurelpio, @laurelparksrec, @laurelpd, and @LaurelECD.

The City's public access television station, known as Laurel TV, is also a great way to be entertained and informed. Airing on Comcast Channel 996 and 71 and Verizon Channel 12, Laurel TV broadcasts all the government meetings and more than 70 individual stories about community news and events. If you miss a broadcast, you can view it on the LaurelTVOfficial YouTube channel.

"If you are not into social media and not a big tv watcher, we have a communications tool that would be perfect for you," Ms. Barnes said. "Our community events and media phone line number is 240-294-1307. We update it frequently with the latest news and event information. You can also leave your upcoming events on the line for us to review and post when appropriate too."

The bottom line is there are many ways to communicate with the City. Find one that works for you so you can enjoy all that Laurel has to offer.

CITY ADMINISTRATOR SELECTED TO PARTICIPATE IN PRESTIGIOUS PROGRAM

Laurel City Administrator Christian L. Pulley, CPM, has been selected to participate in the Senior Executives in State and Local Government training this June. The program, held through Harvard's Kennedy School of Government, focuses on developing productive solutions and continuing to build that bridge between residents and their City government.

Leaders from across the world will enhance their knowledge on topics such as strategic management, negotiation, policy modeling and implantation through a combination of traditional and hands-on learning experiences.

City Administrator Pulley said, "This is an opportunity of a lifetime and I'm very excited! I want to thank the Mayor and City Council for being an advocate for professional development and allowing me to attend this training. By the end of this Program, I look forward to having additional skills in my toolbox to continue to be an effective leader, as well as build strong, resilient relationships with the Laurel community and beyond."

AND THE WINNER IS...

Laurel High School! Congratulations to the Green Team at Laurel High School (LHS) who won first-place honors in the 2023 Prince George’s County Envirothon Competition. The Prince George’s Soil Conservation District and the William S. Schmidt Outdoor Education Center hosted the event at the Schmidt Center on April 26th. The Envirothon is a competition geared towards students learning about the natural world. Envirothon teams are made up of 5 students who work together to study the five areas. These are: Aquatics, Soils, Wildlife, Forestry, and a Fifth Issue that changes each year. This year the Fifth Issue is Climate Change. These tests involve a combination of hands-on activities and knowledge-based activities. Each member of the Laurel High winning team won a $1500 scholarship.

The Green Team has brought the composting program back to life at Laurel High School. Seniors Javier Fuentes, Kayla Collins, and Alison Ayala were the leaders of this effort and pulled together the student body, the school administration and have made this program a success once again. The Green Team created posters, a video (which you can see on Green Living), and captained school lunches to educate students about what is compostable. The program originally started in 2020 was derailed by Covid, but that didn’t stop the determination of the Green Team to revitalize the program. Starting slowly and building momentum, LHS has diverted 12,932 pounds of organic waste from our landfill so far this year!

Diverting food waste from our landfills is the easiest way for all of us to do our part in reducing harmful methane gas. Food waste and other acceptable organic materials, such as pizza boxes, napkins contaminated with food waste, dryer lint, etc.) that are brought to an organics recycling facility are made into organic compost. Using organic compost helps to retain water, reduce erosion, sequesters carbon, and reduces the need for chemical fertilizers.

Let’s follow the example of the Green Team at LHS and join in the City’s curbside composting program.

EV Charging Stations at City Facilities

Thanks to Blink and Paniagua’s Enterprises Incorporated for making this happen! Blink is a well-known and respected leader in building EV infrastructure in this area.

The City of Laurel has partnered with Blink to provide additional EV charging stations to residents and we currently have three locations with two (2) charging stations: 312 Main Street, 8103 Sandy Spring Road (Laurel Municipal Center) and the Robert J. DiPietro Community Center, 7901 Cypress Street. Look for two (2) more charging stations to be added at Sandy Spring Road and Cypress Street by the beginning of summer.

Farmer’s Market Is Back!

We are happy to announce that by the time you are reading this article, the Laurel Farmer’s Market will be opening. The season begins on May 11th from 3:00 to 7:00pm, every other Thursday, and will run until September 28th. Come join us and help support our local farmers and businesses! The Farmer’s Market is located at 378 Main Street, formally known as the Quill Lot. Learn about all of these great Green Living initiatives and more at www.CityofLaurel.org/green!

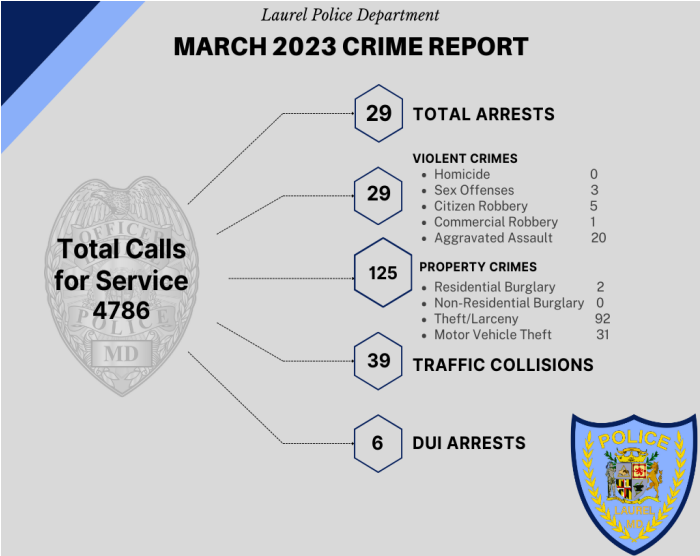

MANTENTE CONECTADO

Council Member Keith Sydnor was recognized at a ceremony on April 15, 2023, as Zeta Phi Beta celebrated its 20-year anniversary. Zeta Phi Beta President Darkesha Moton presented the President's THRIVE Award to Council Member Sydnor for his dedication to country and community.

Mr. Sydnor serves on several City Boards and Commissions. His dedication to education is evidenced by his return to the classroom as a substitute teacher for Prince George's County, and he is a consistent, unwavering volunteer with many area organizations.

Mayor Craig A. Moe officially Proclaimed April 10, 2023, as Expand and Service Day in the City of Laurel and thanked the sisters of Zeta Phi Beta for their service to the community. City Administrator Christian Pulley, Deputy City Administrator Joanne Barr and State's Attorney for Prince George's County, Aisha Braveboy were in attendance to honor the Zetas and Council Member Sydnor.

Laurel Office of Emergency Management: Dam Safety, May 31st

Laurel has two (2) dams to the north: T. Howard Duckett, in conjunction with the Rocky Gorge Reservoir, and Brighton, in conjunction with the Triadelphia Reservoir, along with Van Dusen Dam and multiple water branches in the City. Because of this close proximity to our City, Laurel City OEM knows how important it is to be ready and stay in the know about dam safety.

National Dam Safety Awareness Day is May 31st and seeks to encourage and promote individual and community responsibility and best practices for dam safety, as well as what steps can be taken to prevent catastrophic dam failures. This year's theme is "Dam Safety is a shared responsibility. Know your risk, know your role, know the benefits of dams and take action."

Dam Safety Awareness Day was created in memoriam of the 2,220 people who lost their lives in the 1889 South Fork Dam failure near Johnston, Pennsylvania. The collapse of the South Fork Dam was a tragedy and is not an isolated incident. Proper maintenance, routine inspection, necessary upgrades, and implementation of an Emergency Action Plan can ensure optimal conditions, protecting public health, safety, and welfare.

For more information about Dam Safety, visit <https://damsafety.org/NDSAD>
